FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

Looing In.
Climbing its sky green ladder,
The red rose buds in the pane,
And a fair little face in the window
Looks o'er the rose again.

The Rose.
The rose hath a bee in its bosom,
Singing of honey cells
Where the fairies hide in the brier-rose
Glist o'er the thorny folks.

By a Whistling Sunbeam.
Sung by a whistling sunbeam,
The little fairies gleam and glow.
"Oh, wait till I lie my gypsy,
And I'll follow the bee in the rose."

And Wait Till I Buckle My Sunday Shoes.
The path may be wet by the mill,
I'll bring, too, my little birch basket,
For the berries hang red on the hill.

The Sentence.
The sentence slid through her ringlets
And rippled from shoulder to knee,
Then danced with the maid round the sanded floor.

While Merrily Sang the Bee.
Oh, sweet o'er the sunny meadow
Come wafts from the new made hay!
And, list, as it runs through the alders
The brook calls the maiden away!

PARIS WOMEN'S PAPERS.

Encouraged by the success of the Fronde, two new Paris newspapers, edited and printed exclusively by women, are announced, one called Regeneration, an organ of Protestant women, the other called La Francaise, an organ of Catholic women. The Duchesse d'Uzes has accepted the management of the latter, the offices of which, in the Faubourg St. Germain, have become a sort of ladies' club.

A BRIGHT CHICAGO GIRL.

Although but 19 years old, Marie W. Hauss of Chicago has been admitted to the bar and has had charge of cases before justices. She must wait, however, until she is 21, just as if she were a young man, before she can practice in the higher court. Miss Hauss speaks several languages, including Bohemian.

While the Woman Drummer. Here is not greatly in evidence, in Germany members of that body are most common and go their rounds on tricycles, to which are attached their boxes of samples.

In the British lord chamberlain's department the position of chimney sweeper is held by a woman and the office of stationary master is also filled by a member of the fair sex.

The Woman's club of Evanston, Ills., has raised nearly $12,000 for the Charity hospital of that place, and a new hospital building will soon be opened free from debt.

Mrs. Emma King has been appointed postmistress at Bore, Laramie county, Wyo., vice Martha E. Knight, resigned.

FREE MEDICAL TREATMENT FOR WEAK MEN.

WHO ARE WILLING TO PAY WHEN CONVINCED OF CURE.

A scientific combined medical and mechanical cure has been discovered for "Weakness of Men." Its success has been so startling that the proprietors now announce that they are going to trial remedies and apparatus without any consideration of money.

If not all that is claimed—all you wish—send it back—that ends it—pay nothing!

No such offer was ever made in good faith before; we believe no other remedy would stand such a test.

The treatment consists of a series of exercises and forms all effects of disease, evil habits, intercesses, overwork, worry, etc.

It creates health, strength, sustaining powers and restores weak and underdeveloped portions to natural dimension and function.

Any person willing to earnest will receive descriptive particulars and references in a plain sealed envelope. Professional confidence. No deception nor imposition of any nature. A national reputation backs this offer. Cut out and send this notice, or mention paper. Address

WILLIAM THE WEAKLING.

The President of the United States wiggles in and wiggles out on the Spanish question fully as much as he did on the silver question when a member of Congress from Ohio. Then he declared that there could be no general nor permanent prosperity until silver was remonetized; now he pretends to believe that nothing but the adoption of the single gold standard will save the country from financial ruin. In his message to Congress on the destruction of the Maine he has made no suggestions and outlined no policy. In his attempt to epitomize the findings of the Court of Inquiry he detracted from rather than added to the strength of the report of the Court. Nine days ago he promised to send another message on our relations with Spain to Congress and that body adjourned for three days to give him ample time to prepare the paper. At the expiration of that time he had some excuse to offer for further delay and he kept on during the last week inventing excuses for delay. One of these was to give General Lee and Americans in Havana time to leave the city, when, if the message means Cuban independence, General Lee should have been informed of the fact ten days ago. He acts like one who has no control of himself and a charitable assumption is that he has been hypnotized by Hanna and the gold trust. His hand is guided by the hand of others and many of his own partisans refer to him as "William the weakling."

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

A brief synopsis of the President's message, which was sent to Congress yesterday, has been telegraphed here. It recommends that power be given the President to intervene in Cuba and endeavor to settle the contest between the Cubans and the Spaniards. It was unsatisfactory to the Republicans in the Senate and House, who believe in acknowledging the independence of Cuba, and who are now styled "kicking Republicans." It is thought that tomorrow these kickers will join with the opposition and overrule Speaker Reed. This is surmised from the dissatisfaction expressed at the message, but Mr. Reed may be able to control the reconcentrados for an indefinite period.

It looks very much at present as if the President desired to wash his hands of the Spanish affair and throw the responsibility on Congress. He evidently, like Mr. Hanna, wants peace at any price, and if he is authorized to intervene, will probably declare an armistice and the United States may aid in forcing the insurgents to lay down their arms, pending negotiations for a settlement of the difficulties between Spain and Cuba.

If the Administration Republicans can control the kicking Republicans there will be no war.

A BILL to increase the internal revenue tax on beer and tobacco is being prepared at the Treasury Department. Bank checks, bills of exchange, deeds, mortgages, promissory notes and patent medicines will also be taxed and it is expected that the revenue from this source will be increased $100,000,000. The tax on beer will be doubled and it is estimated that the increase will be about $35,000,000. Whisky, it is thought, pays as high tax at present as it will stand and the tax will not be increased.

THE Springfield Republican notes that tropical wars are always destructive of human life. Years ago our Government sent an army of 7,000 men to Florida to subdue 3,000 Seminoles, including all their women and children. The job was finally done, but it cost us 1,531 lives of soldiers, of whom only 58 fell in battle. Since then we have paid $53,000,000 in pensions on account of the Seminole war.

"MCKINLEY," said Senator Marcus Aurielus Hanna, as he entered the President's room in the White House, "you will have to get another Secretary! This fellow Porter has spoken offensively to me, and I do not desire to have him retained in your office any longer." The President immediately telephoned to his old Secretary who is now Consul at Liverpool and tendered him the position.

It is said that William K. Vanderbilt will present the Government with a $5,000,000 warship in the event of war. He is following in the footsteps of Commodore Vanderbilt, who, at the opening of civil war, gave the Union a couple of big boats which did good service in the great struggle.

It is reported that Arch-Bishop Ireland thinks that the only way that peace can be preserved is to declare war. He believes that if war was declared Spain would give up Cuba immediately without making a fight.

A tremendous effort is being made by the Administration to prevent war the way it looks now, but Congress is liable to make matters lively the next few days.

A large number of cattle men from the eastern part of the State as well as from this county visited Carson yesterday to attend the cattle men's meeting.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

Not Very Satisfactorily Received by Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—President McKinley's message asks Congress to authorize him to take measures to secure the termination of hostilities in Cuba and to secure the establishment of stable government there and to use the military and naval forces of the United States as may be necessary for the purpose. The President says the only hope of relief from a condition which can no longer be endured is the enforced pacification of the Island. The issue is now with Congress and he awaits action, standing prepared to carry out every obligation imposed on him by the constitution. Spain's decree for suspension of hostilities is submitted to Congress for just and careful attention with the observation that if the measure attains successful result then our aspirations as a peace loving people will be realized. If it fails it will be another justification of our contemplated action. The Maine incident figures prominently in the message. The President argues that the wreck of the Maine in Havana harbor shows that Spain is not able to guarantee security to foreign vessel. Spain has offered to submit to arbitration all the differences which may arise from the affair.

Senator Foraker and White express much dissatisfaction over the President's message. It is understood that McKinley is inviting deliberation on the part of the Foreign Relations Committee.

The dissatisfied Republicans say they will take the bit in their own mouths to-morrow and demand immediate intervention.

It was shown through the diplomatic correspondence that Consul-General Lee wrote to the State Department on February 22d, that the Maine was blown up by a torpedo.

Many Congressmen are expressing themselves as dissatisfied with McKinley's message, and say his request for discretionary power means autonomy rather than independence.

Congress is quite likely to act independently to-morrow.

To Cat Stick.

This expression had its birth in the days when people relied more on their legs as a means of locomotion than they do nowadays.

When a man started to foot it from one town to another, he usually cut a stick or a sapling to help him along on his journey.

This habit was particularly common in Ireland, and it is more than probable that the expression found birth in that country. About the year 1820 a song relating the adventures of an Irishman was very popular in Glasgow. It began: "Oh, I crushed my brogues and I cut my sticks."

The phrase took hold of the American mind in the days of slavery.

A runaway black would generally cut a stick to help him on his travel to possible liberty, and the advertisements concerning runaway slaves were nearly always headed with a crude woodcut of a negro with a stick and a bundle over his shoulder.—New York World.

At the Station.

Mrs. Hayrick—I say, is that clock right?

Porter—That ain't no clock; it's a weighing machine.

Mrs. Hayrick—What do you want with a weighing machine here?

Porter—So folks won't want to leave town kin git a weigh.—London Fun.

Dangerous.

You say that you had four aces and yet did not show them when called?"

"You bet I didn't. The other fellow was a cattle driver and he had two ace himself!"—New York Journal.

A Smoke Barn.

"Tobacco smoking," said a traveler, "is so common in Holland that it is impossible to distinguish one person from another in a room full of smokers."

"But supposing you want to speak to some one present—how are you to find it out?"

"Ah, in such cases a waiter is sent round with a pair of bellows, with which he blows away the smoke from the face of every person until the right one is found."—London Tit-Bits.

A. Nelson is constantly replenishing his stock. Special or clearance sales are not his method. His prices are always at the closest margin on his stock of hats, caps, underwear in various grades, overalls, jumpers, gloves and a general assortment of men's goods. Also a complete line of smoker's articles including a line of cigars and tobaccos, equal to many wholesale houses. In fact he does a general jobbing business in this line and sells to the trade. In the line of novelties pocket cutlery and many handy and necessary articles, Nelson is hard to beat. Free employment office at his store, Virginia street, Reno. If

The fire in some sheds on Sunday afternoon back of the Convent building did little damage although for a few moments the residences in the neighborhood were in considerable danger.

The fire was put out under the law, paid out the money.

Mr. Summerfield differed in that the Treasurer had paid the money without consulting the Council and as the money had already been paid nothing would be lost in rejecting the bills. He thought there was a question whether the Treasurer was legally authorized to pay the bills without the approval of the Council.

Mr. Curier asked if the Treasurer's bonds were not liable under his bond for this sum.

Mr. Summerfield answered that it was a serious question as to the right of the Treasurer to pay the amount and if the matter had to be decided by suit it would be just as well for Mr. Boyd to bring it as the City Council as the latter had taken the affirmative in nearly every instance so far. After more discussion the bills were laid over, all voting aye.

Some discussion arose over the bill of Monroe and Hubbard. It was thought the charge of $200 was exorbitant and should be cut down. The claimants made a statement and the bill was finally allowed, Mr. Noyes voting emphatically No.

S. A. Hamlin appeared and stated that the property holders on the South side of the river were assessed for city purposes and had little benefit and asked that they at least be given one electric arc light. No action.

Mr. Bliss asked the privilege of running a ditch on Washington street, and the request was granted under certain conditions. The Council then adjourned until next Monday.

EASTER.

The Festival Generally, Observed in Reno.

Easter Sunday was generally observed in Reno; nearly every one put on their best suit of clothes and most every one attended one of the several churches where Easter services were the feature, the musical part of the service being prominent. Each house of worship was crowded to overflowing and in some instances the attendants found it next to impossible to gain admission owing to the jam. The Knights Templar as they solemnly moved through the streets from their place of rendezvous to Trinity Church created a profound impression on the throngs that lined the sidewalks.

The Secretary read papers from W. H. Hill, Inspector in the Bureau of Animal Industry, on Texas fever also telegrams from Senator Stewart and Secretary Wilson.

Petitions and protests from stockmen and others from all parts of the State were presented and read, and the meeting was addressed by George S. Nixon of Humboldt, Charles Hale and F. S. Harrington of Elko, Dr. W. H. Patterson of Washoe, in favor of maintaining the quarantine. Andrew Harrel of the firm of Sparks & Harrel, spoke in favor of admitting healthy cattle from infected districts, and Mr. Sparks of the same firm protested against it.

N. H. A. Mason of Elko, introduced the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the quarantining between this State and California be maintained and that no cattle from infected districts be allowed to enter the State, except in transit under quarantine restrictions, and by railroads only, if it be in the power of the authorities to prevent it.

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to telegraph a copy of these resolutions to the Secretary of Agriculture at Washington.

The meeting was very harmonious and it adjourned with three cheers for the Governor.

CITY COUNCIL.

The City Council met in regular monthly session, all present except Councilman Wells. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

President Osborn then stated that under the advertisements for bids for bonds this was the meeting at which the bids were to be opened and considered and declared the same in order.

The Clerk then proceeded to read the bids as follows: Roger Crow of Carson bid $9,000 for $10,000 in bonds payable ten years from date of issuance. Jos. McChesney of Quincy, California, bid $3,000 at a premium of four cents on each $100 payable in twenty years. P. Wickland of Winnemucca offered to purchase $10,000 payable in 1908 or 1909. Mrs. Mary Jones of Douglas county asked to purchase $4,000 in bonds.

Councilman Noyes then offered a resolution covering the fact that it appearing from the bids received that the inducements offered were not sufficient to warrant the council in accepting any of the proposals, that they be rejected and the Council be authorized to sell the bonds at the best possible advantage. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

A petition asking for a crossing on the alley between the residences of Rev. S. Unsworth and Wm. Pinneker was read and filed. Mr. Noyes stated that under a previous order nothing but stone crossings can be laid.

Lieutenant Hubbard and Colonel Monroe as a committee reported in detail on the survey and plans of Mr. F. L. Gould. The same was referred to the Committee on Water and Lights, with instructions to report at next meeting.

Mr. Gould then submitted his maps showing the two lines surveyed, one on the north and the other on the south side of the river, and explained the same to those present, giving measurements, distance and locations for reservoirs, together with pipe line for city. The maps were accepted and placed on file in the Clerk's office for the inspection of the public.

Mr. Noyes then placed on file an abstract prepared by Chas. L. Knox, showing the formation of the City Council, its legal responsibility, etc.

The monthly bills were taken up and allowed, amounting to $1514.16. The bills of the City Treasurer amounting to $5,630 were taken up.

Mr. Julian thought the bills should be allowed as the Treasurer had under the law, paid out the money.

Mr. Summerfield differed in that the Treasurer had paid the money without consulting the Council and as the money had already been paid nothing would be lost in rejecting the bills. He thought there was a question whether the Treasurer was legally authorized to pay the bills without the approval of the Council.

Mr. Curier asked if the Treasurer's bonds were not liable under his bond for this sum.

Mr. Summerfield answered that it was a serious question as to the right of the Treasurer to pay the amount and if the matter had to be decided by suit it would be just as well for Mr. Boyd to bring it as the City Council as the latter had taken the affirmative in nearly every instance so far. After more discussion the bills were laid over, all voting aye.

Some discussion arose over the bill of Monroe and Hubbard. It was thought the charge of $200 was exorbitant and should be cut down. The claimants made a statement and the bill was finally allowed, Mr. Noyes voting emphatically No.

S. A. Hamlin appeared and stated that the property holders on the South side of the river were assessed for city purposes and had little benefit and asked that they at least be given one electric arc light. No action.

Mr. Bliss asked the privilege of running a ditch on Washington street, and the request was granted under certain conditions. The Council then adjourned until next Monday.
